

Index of Surnames in The Tevis Family, a Family History by Mary M. Bell

Karen M. Wood

The Tevis Family, by Professor Emeritus Mary M. Bell of Northern Illinois University, accounts for the family's history from the early eighteenth century until the twentieth century. The book is more than just a list of names and dates allowing for a glimpse into the characters and personalities of these descendants. Photographs are also included, and the second edition offers a list of lost sons and daughters, asking readers to send any available information regarding these Tevis descendants.

The Tevis name is first recorded in the United States on April 5, 1707, when Robert Tevis married Susanna Davies in All Hallows Parish in Ann Arundel County, Maryland. The family then spread westward. In Indiana, they settled mainly in Rush, Shelby, and Jefferson counties, but also in Clark, Decatur, Tipton, and White counties. Of course, throughout the years, many other surnames have been added to the Tevis family tree due to daughters marrying into other families.

The following pages list a comprehensive index of all surnames in the back of Bell's The Tevis Family. Copies of the book are available by purchase from the author; for more information, please contact Teresa Baer, Managing Editor, of Family History Publications, at tbaer@indianahistory.org.¹
