

Hoosier Baptists: The Flat Rock Association with Names Listed in Annual Meeting Minutes

Timothy Mohon

Death records from the minutes of the American Baptist Flat Rock Association, which is a missionary association, were published in the Fall/Winter 2011 and Spring/Summer 2012 editions of The Hoosier Genealogist: Connections.¹ The Flat Rock Association is located in Bartholomew, Decatur, Johnson, and Shelby Counties, Indiana. This association has a long history in Indiana; it was the first Baptist association to be organized in the “New Purchase” area of Indiana after the 1818 Treaty of Saint Mary’s. The association has weathered two divisions and one short-lived merger to become what it is today.

In the death notices, following each name is the year of the printed minutes that are abstracted, the page number of the entry, and either a brief account or a full listing of the notice. Many of the entries only include the church the member attended, but other entries include the age of the deceased or a longer obituary. See the appendix at the end of this article for a list of Baptist titles and abbreviations found in the death notices.²

In 1818 he removed to Harrison Co., in this State, where he commenced preaching when about 26 years of age. Soon after this he removed to Bartholomew Co., and became a pioneer in the wilderness. In discharging the duties of the ministry he labored under severe embarrassment. He was naturally remarkably timid; and when he commenced preaching he could not even read. These, together with the labor and care of supporting his family weighed heavily upon him, and he went forward with fear and much trembling. But such was the sincerity and depth of his piety, such the ardor of his love of Christ and his cause, and such too, his desire for the conversion of sinners, that he could not refrain from speaking in the name of Christ. He also diligently improved the opportunities he had for acquiring an education, and storing his ministry with useful knowledge. By his pious walk and Godly conversation, together with zealous and successful labors in the ministry, he secured the confidence and strong attachment of his brethren, and the churches. He loved the cause of Christ till death. Though in the last years of his life he was much afflicted, both in his own person, and in his family, yet he persevered in his self-denying labors till he was honorably discharged. He died of congestive fever, Nov. 15, 1846 in the 54th year of his age. His end was peace. He has gone to his reward.”

Hurst, Eld. E. (1866): 6–7; Mud Creek church. Hurst “departed this life February 5th, 1866, in the fifty-sixth year of his age. Elder Hurst was a member of the Mud Creek Church, and a messenger to this Association for many years. He was born in Fleming County, Kentucky, in 1810, and came to Indiana in 1824. Soon afterward he professed faith in Jesus, was baptized and received into the Mud Creek Church. He was licensed to preach when about thirty years old, and ordained the following year.

He was a successful preacher for many years, until he lost his health. On this account for a few years past he preached only occasionally, but seemed to be deeply engaged in the good cause. About six months previous to his death he expressed a great desire to live to see another revival of religion, especially in his own church. He was gratified. Three of his children were converted to God, but during the midst of the general outpouring of God’s spirit upon the church he fell asleep in Jesus. He told his wife just before his departure that there was not a cloud or shadow between him and eternity, and his last words, feebly spoken, were ‘O, how good God is, how good God is.’”

Hurst, Eld. Landy (1863): 4. “As an association and brethren we feel the loss of father Hurst. He was an old pioneer preacher of this State, and in the early settlement of this country his labors were abundantly blessed to the conversion of sinners to God. . . . He aided in the organization of a number of churches in this region of country.

“He was born in the year 1776, in the State of Virginia; moved to the State of Kentucky with his parents at the age of fourteen years; united with the Baptist church with his companion, Sarah Hurst, at the age of twenty-five; commenced preaching at the age of thirty years; moved to the State of Indiana in the year 1823, Rush county.

“Elder Hurst and Elder Guard were the only ministers present at the organization of the Indianapolis Association. He died the 9th day of June, 1863.”

With good natural abilities, a mind stored with knowledge, a commanding appearance, an earnestness of manhood, a clear, harmonious voice, with deep and ardent piety, and a heart full of sympathy, and all these under the influence of the constraining love of Christ, and an expansive benevolence to the souls of men, he was prepared to be an engaging and useful preacher. . . . He was permitted to see powerful and extensive revivals under his preaching. He left his home in Fayette Co. to spend last Winter with his children in Parke Co. During the weeks he remained there, he endeared himself to many, by his Godly walk and conversation, and his faithful ministry. On Wednesday before his death, while preaching a funeral sermon, he asked with touching pathos, “Who shall be called? Who shall be next?” On Saturday, while going into the church, he fell, and expired immediately. He died of apoplexy [sic] in the 73rd year of his age, and the [—] of his christian profession; more than 40 of which he had devoted to the ministry.”

APPENDIX: BAPTIST TITLES AND TITLE ABBREVIATIONS

Brother (Bro.) or Sister (Sis.): Customary designation for laypeople.

Deacon (Dea.): Layperson ordained to give spiritual leadership and assist the pastor in a congregation.

Doctor of Divinity (DD): Honorary academic degree granted by a college or university to recognize years of excellent service in the ministry and, usually, in that institution. Most nineteenth-century Baptist pastors with a doctorate possessed this degree.

Doctor of Theology (ThD): Four-year academic degree granted by a seminary or university; largely replaced today by Doctor of Ministry (DMin) and Doctor of Philosophy (PhD).

Elder (Eld.): Ordained ministers or pastors; generally synonymous with Reverend (Rev.), although Primitive Baptists used the title of Elder exclusively.

Licentiate (Lic.): Individual in a preparatory stage to ordination.

Messenger: Individual appointed to represent his home church in an associational meeting (hence the church that a messenger is listed with in associational meeting minutes is his home church).

Missionary: Individual appointed to serve as pastor, evangelist, and/or to start new churches. If serving as pastor, church records list individual as such, and missionary status is discerned from missionary and executive board reports and denominational proceeding minutes.

Pastor: Individual who serves a local church by preaching, administration, and/or counseling. Before 1900 most pastors served one to four churches simultaneously, and their services were usually limited to preaching.
